

BDO SOLUTIONS FUELSOFT

As a complete fuel delivery system for home comfort, retail and bulk fuel suppliers, Fuelsoft automates the dispatch of vehicles and dispensing of fuel eliminating run outs — helping to improve customer service, reduce clerical work and increase profits.

Integrated financial and process management

Fuelsoft gives users instant access to all critical information in one system, without duplicate entries or the need to search for answers in various places. Other available features include:

- Client specific pricing
- Client inventory levels and replenishment forecasting with degree day calculations
- Card lock support
- Automated invoicing
- Credit and collections
- Route planning and scheduling

Customer management

The Fuelsoft Delivery Management module provides complete control to petroleum and propane distributors, as well as the following additional capabilities:

- Analysis of sales and forecast of delivery requirements
- Multiple delivery locations, each with unique product and delivery schedule
- Client equipment records with model number, serial number and warranty information
- Automatic delivery dispatch system generates delivery tickets by territory for a particular date
- Support of onboard delivery truck computers, including MID:COM and Liquid Controls

Service management

The Fuelsoft Service Management module gives users a competitive edge with superior customer service operations to increase customer loyalty while fueling profitability. You can also:

- Manage parts inventories, costs, workloads and task prioritization
- Generate service orders from the customer card or service contract (which appear automatically on the dispatch screen assigned to the driver to streamline dispatching, processing and invoicing)
- Use mobile service for field sales and service technicians

Inventory control and management

The inventory management module connects inventory control, purchasing, and sales order processing with demand planning to help reduce costs, improve cash flow, and ensure you have the right stock available when you need it.

Fleet maintenance

You have the ability to manage the entire life cycle of equipment from acquisition to disposal with:

- User-defined maintenance scheduling
- Replacement parts inventory
- Work order generation and full-costing against budget

Job management

It is easier than ever to make individual project decisions for your business that give you single-view visibility into your current and planned projects. Users will understand the true costs of projects providing comparisons of actual and budgeted sales and costs in real-time, and calculate the value of work-in-progress for accurate company financial statements.

Accounting and information management

Fuelsoft provides hundreds of predefined reports to track operational, financial and clerical performance. Clients can export data for further analysis, and pinpoint performance by department, product, product group, site, and customer to identify opportunities and avoid potential problems. The system provides vital up-to-the minute information for fuel distributors. User-defined filters and reporting options can analyze company performance and trends for any date that is entered.

Additional benefits

- Avoid duplicate work with a fully integrated Fuel Management and Accounting System
- Save time with automatic degree day calculations

- Control your business with complete customer information online
- Provide consistent on-time delivery with automatic dispatching
- Improve service by comparing customer fuel consumption by zone or furnace type
- Reduce billing inquiries by providing customers with consumption and degree day information
- Optimize delivery schedules

With the ability to fully integrate with Microsoft Dynamics NAV, Fuelsoft is a proven business management system with more than 73,000 customers and 1,250,000 users worldwide. It can also integrate simply with most onboard truck computers for further convenience.
